

Some of uptown's movers & shakers

THESE ARE some key Harlemites — leaders in banking and finance, education, media, politics, civil rights, community development, arts and culture and religion.

1. Arthur Barnes, chairman, National Jazz Museum in Harlem

2. Lee Bollinger, president, Columbia University

3. The Rev. Calvin Butts 3rd, senior minister, Abyssinian Baptist Church

4. Inez Dickens, New York City Council member

5. Hazel Dukes, president, New York State Conference NAACP

6. Walter Edwards, chairman emeritus, Harlem Business Alliance

7. Adriano Espailat, New York State assemblyman

8. Herman (Denny) Farrell, New York State assemblyman

9. Eugene Giscombe, chairman, 125th St. Business Improvement District

10. Robert Jackson, New York City Council member

11. Kenneth Knuckles, president, Upper Manhattan Empowerment Zone

12. Lucile McEwen, president and CEO,

Harlem Congregations for Community Improvement

13. Imam Izak-El Mu'eed Pasha, Masjid Malcolm Shabazz

14. New York Gov. David Paterson

15. William Perkins, New York State senator

16. Charles Rangel, congressman and chairman of House Committee on Ways and Means

17. Voza Rivers, chairman, Harlem Arts Alliance

18. The Rev. Al Sharpton, president, National Action Network

19. Percy Sutton, business, media and political icon

20. Elinor Tatum, publisher and editor-in-chief, New York Amsterdam News

21. Melissa Mark Viverito, New York City Council member

22. Gregory Williams, president, City College of New York

23. Lloyd Williams, president and CEO, Greater Harlem Chamber of Commerce

24. Deborah Wright, president, Carver Federal Savings Bank

25. Keith Wright, New York State assemblyman